CDPH Warns Consumers About Undeclared Milk, Soy, and/or Wheat Allergens in Toast Products

SACRAMENTO – Dr. Ron Chapman, director of the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) and state health officer, today warned consumers with allergies to milk, soy, or wheat not to eat the following toast products because they contain milk, soy, and/or wheat allergens that are not listed on the label.

RECALLED TOAST PRODUCTS
Cheese Toast	Raisin Toast
Coconut Toast	Red Bean Toast
Family Toast	Taro Toast
Green Onion Porksung Toast	Wheat Bran Toast
Multi-9 Grain Toast	U-Ta-Ne Toast
Pineapple Toast

People who have milk, soy, and/or wheat allergies risk life-threatening reactions if these products are consumed. To date, no illnesses have been reported.

Welcome Market, Inc., doing business as 99 Ranch Market of Union City, California, initiated a voluntary recall of these types of toast. The toast products were packaged as pre-sliced loaves in clear plastic bags and distributed to 99 Ranch Market stores in Northern California and the state of Washington. Each store has a different bar code and address information specific to that location. The products have a sell by date of 11/04/14 or prior.

You can view a picture of one of the recalled toast products on CDPH's website. Consumers in possession of any of these products should return them to the place of purchase for a refund.

Consumers that have experienced an allergic reaction after eating these products should consult their health care provider. Anyone observing these products being offered for sale is encouraged to call CDPH toll-free complaint line at (800) 495-3232.
