Meet Our Featured Speaker – Shamika Ossey

Shamika Ossey, RN, BSN, PHN, South LA Teen CERT Collaborative South Los Angeles Teen CERT Collaborative

- The South Los Angeles Teen CERT Collaborative was developed in partnership with a wide representation of local organizations and businesses as a true whole community effort.

- Word of mouth from trusted community leaders helped recruit youth into the program and local police vans provided transportation.

- Local businesses provided meals and snacks for the youth, and other local partners ensured that at least five adults were present at every class to show support for the students' efforts.

- The level of commitment and support demonstrated by local businesses, law enforcement, community leaders, and the youths themselves is reflective of the whole community engagement and collaboration that John encouraged and emphasized through his work.

- In the first year, a total of 27 teens were trained in the CERT program of which 14 were trained in CPR and first aid. Former FEMA Youth Preparedness Council member, Tiffany Espensen, also participated in the graduation ceremony.
